
*Annual Report of the Municipal Officers of the Town of Georgetown, Maine,
for the fiscal year ending 30 June 2009*

Georgie Grindle was honored as Citizen of the Year at the Get-to-Know-Your-Neighbor Party at the Georgetown Community Center in March. The ever-lively lady had suffered a stroke only weeks before the event.

Photographer Sue Ludgin took this portrait of the Citizen of the Year at the Get-to-Know-Your-Neighbor Party. The photograph on the cover shows what the people of Georgetown saw as they crossed the Back River all year long as Reed & Reed of Woolwich moved the old Singing Bridge to the south, then began building a new, wider, safer bridge in its place.
